DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's election without traverse of species (a) (claims 1-9) in the reply filed on 10/31/2005 is acknowledged.

Priority

2. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Specification

3. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

5. Claims 1-3, 6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C 102(e) as being anticipated by Kaneda et al., US Patent No. 6,798,473.

The above claims are anticipated by Kaneda et al. figures 1, 4 and accompanying text which disclose a semi-transparent type liquid crystal display panel comprising:

- . a transparent substrate (1a) having a common electrode (5a) and an alignment layer (6a);

- . a TFT array substrate (1b) having a passivation layer (12), a reflection layer (2), a flat color filter (4a/4b/4c) as claimed, a transparent conductive layer (5b) and an alignment layer (6b) wherein a reflection portion is thicker than a transmissive portion (e.g., thickness of the transmissive portion is 0) as well as light through the reflection portion and the transmissive portion have the same color density (e.g., same color).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kaneda et al., US Patent No. 6,798,473.

Art Unit: 2871

Regarding claims 4 and 5, Kaneda et al. disclose the claimed invention as described above except for the transparent conductive layer being between the flat color filter and the TFT array substrate. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a transparent conductor layer between a flat color filter and a substrate instead of between the flat color filter and a liquid crystal layer, since it is a common practice in the art for displaying as well as it has been held that rearranging parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
